TAFT CRITICIZED

Chief Justice's Advice in Appointments Opposed in Upper House.

Washington.—President Harding has decided to withhold from the senate the nomination of Judge E. T. Sanford of Tennessee as associate justice of the supreme court of the United States. Whether it will ever be sent to the senate seems doubtful, but if it does, it will be because of circumstances which have influenced Mr. Harding to hesitate, circumstances that are unique and unprecedented in American history.

"It's the same story on the separation of powers—the drawing of sharp lines of cleavage between the executive and judicial branches of the government. For there is no room for compromise," said Senator Taft because of the part he has been playing in the selection of judges for the supreme bench. Some republicans and several democrats are known to have expressed themselves quite frankly on the subject and Mr. Harding has the highest regard for Mr. Taft and sympathizes with his desire to have efficient colleagues but they question the propriety of his taking an active part in the process of selection which they hold is purely an executive action with the consent of the upper house of the national legislative body.

He speaks in favor of giving the government for its own sake, but because of the importance of passing a bill providing 27 additional judges to take care of the congested state of the American judiciary, speeches were made declaring it was improper for a member of the bench to attempt to influence the legislative branch of the government. This passed off, however, without any complaint to the executive. Things

LAWRENCE 'PROF' HONORED

Appleton.—Prof. J. H. Farley, head of the department of philosophy at Lawrence college and a research fellow of the Wisconsin, Minnesota and Wisconsin, congress meeting here Thursday and Friday.

W. E. Pfarrer Jr., who admitted on the 11th that he was a kidnapper and owner of an automobile truck with which he had been hauling logs Aug. 24 until 7 p.m., was questioned at the mill about the truck and a log unloader at the lumber mill at which he was employed near Menominee.

He said there was a white man by the name of W. F. Howard who was employed at the mill in the capacity of a sawyer. The witness said Howard "knocked off" from work Aug. 24 or about the usual time at 6 o'clock.

The witness was interrogated at length about the machinery used at the mill. He described each piece and said the plant was intact when he returned to work Aug. 25. Reports were current that Daniel and Richard were tortured by heavy machinery.

All details regarding the loan were approved and the pool was authorized to send each banker in the tobacco growing districts and Milwaukee a suggested quota. A million dollars have been borrowed by the pool and $1,500,000 more will be needed if needed, Mr. Bussey said.

The bankers' committee is composed of M. C. Hagan, First National bank, Madison; R. L. Hopkins, Bank of Wisconsin, Madison; M. E. Baumberger, Second Ward Savings bank, Milwaukee; W. E. Borden, Mutual Life and Fidelity bank, Milwaukee; W. A. West, First National bank, Stoughton; P. T. Favell, Northwestern National, Chippewa Falls and Mr. Bussey.

Farmers and Breeders Want Change Made in the Janesville Fair Methods

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Janesville Park association is to be held at the city hall Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Requests and demands are being made by farmers and breed associations holding stock in the Janesville Park association to make the fair more representative of agriculture on a county-wide basis. More farmers or farmer representatives are desired on the board to bring about a reform in business methods of financing the fair with view of not subordinating the livestock and farm exhibits to any department of the fair.

Every breed association in Rock county at recent meetings has gone on record favoring increased premiums and improved accommodations for showing farm exhibits. The farmers declare that the premiums for the animals shown at most county fairs and less than are paid at fairs of the importance and size of the Janesville exhibition.

EXPERT DIAGNOSES FARMER TROUBLES

Walworth County Producers Hear Practical Talk After Survey.

SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE—Going into much detail, C. E. McNall of the state department of agriculture told Walworth county farmers at a meeting at the court house here, why some farmers were not making money and how others could increase their profits. Mr. McNall's statements were based on months of surveys on Walworth county farms.

An hour after the conclusion of his talk, farmers were still asking questions and some stayed until after midnight.

Mr. McNall declared that the size of the farm outside cities and that to make big money one must have large farm; but small money can be made on small farms. He declared that when prices for farm produce rise faster than cost of production it is better to have a large farm.

Prices Below Cost.

"During the late war price of production went down, so production costs were down," Mr. McNall said. "When prices drop faster than the cost of production it is better to have a small farm."

It is a significant fact that 80 per cent of the farm income in Walworth county is from dairying and in some cases where there was no other income from the farm the rate ran as high as 80 per cent. Dairying is a highly specialized industry and on some farms is the one source of income, but farms that make the most money are those having more than one source of income, the most money coming in from farms having five sources of income.

"On the farms where there are utilized to better advantage and use up the food better, secure better rotation of crops. The farmers must prepare to handle the various sources when hogs or chickens, which pay only when well handled."

Promises on Dairying.

One point which must be considered is securing good breeding stock, Mr. McNall said. That is true, the freshen in the fall produces more milk and pay better. Farms that have cows producing 5,000 pounds or less per year produce milk at higher cost than herds producing 6,000 to 7,000 pounds of milk each. The poor cows, Mr. McNall said, take 68 pounds of grain each day, while the good cows take only 24 pounds, with enough feed to 100 pounds. Some of the poorest herds take $8 to produce 100 pounds of milk, he said.

The average for poor cows, Mr. McNall showed, was $4.04, and for good cows $4.90, so producing, per pound of milk. The largest cost in producing milk is feed and labor, and the main thing needed to make farming profitable is to look after the big items and forget the insignificant points. He said it was better to increase the dairy produce 10 per cent than two increase smaller lines and make less.

Police Chief Breaks Truancy Law Charge

Judge Martin ordered the case continued until Jan. 24.

"TON LITTER" PIG CONTEST PLANNED

Rock County Breeders Enter Novel Meet Explained by M. K.

ROCK COUNTY HOG BREEDERS will contest in the Wisconsin "ton litter" pig contest this year through the Wisconsin Livestock Breeders' Association and the animal husbandry department of the College of Agriculture. Also the farmers and breeders here will compete in the fat barrow contest being held on the progressive Wisconsin fairs.

The ton-litter and barrow rules were explained Wednesday to many breeders here by L. H. McKay, extension worker with the result several farmers and breeders nominated their hogs.

The "ton-litter" contest is a test of feeding for rapid gains—economics in hog production—and breeding in particular other than breeders of registered stock.

"This contest puts a premium on saving of pigs in a litter. The biggest financial loss suffered by porkers is this same loss of pigs," declared Mr. McKay.

Open to Grades.

Under the rules the litter contest is open to any hog owner in the county regardless of breed, whether the dam is pure-bred, grade or cross-bred. It is open by a pure-bred hog.

The contest is decided upon weight alone and litter must be shown at the Japseville fair with the two or three toppers going to the "round-up" at the meat show in Madison next October.

It will be based against breed, farmer against farmer, with an open competition eliminating the value of swine put on foot for the litter, regardless of race.

There are two remarkable phases of that title. One is that it is applicable today as it was then; the other is that it is based on Franklin, after 30 years of business to build up enough of a fortune to give up his entire time to public service. Franklin died by the budget system to which a day of thrift week will be devoted. He started the endless loan system whereby the borrowed money will stand at 20, and such the sum for procedure as was used last year will be used.

Richard Taylor.

Richard Taylor heads the Father-Son week committee, others on this committee to be named by him. The week will be Feb. 4-11, when more cooperation in having that one week a day off from work will be demanded. Last year, each organization observing this week did so in a different period.

William Helder and A. C. Perston head the basketball/league committee, which met Tuesday night and mapped out a plan similar to last year's. It is hoped, however, to have more activities for younger boys than day.

Ability Is Immortalized.

Were it not for Franklin's unusual abilities as a writer, alone, which links his fame is second only to that of thrifte, his famous maxims would probably never have been kept, but such admirable mottoes as "Inch a day, gain a mile," "A man's home is his castle," "A man's word is his bond," "A book so interesting to read as is 'Poor Richard's Almanac,'" then the immortality of literature belongs immortality to Franklin as a thrift promoter. And when one reads the book by electricity, his inventive power is thus immortalized.

Gets $50 Reward by Court Order

(By Associated Press)

Through a ruling made Wednesday afternoon by County Judge Charles L. Field, County Highway Patrolman Merton G. Miller was instructed to collect the $50 reward for recovering the $1,000 lost in a holdup at the 19th street gas station, Sept. 19. Supt. Archie Cullen, who in turn was advised to file a bill for that amount against the estate. Although it is more than a month and a half since the body was recovered in the river near the county farm by Miller, he has been unable to collect his reward until now owing to a dispute as to what he is entitled to.

The L. H. Phelps herd of 10 grade steers, Walworth county, several of which are half-bred, averaged 518 pounds, or 100 per cent fat, or 1,627 pounds of milk for December in the La Grange cow testing association. The herd was fed a grain mixture of 600 pounds ground corn and cob meal, 300 pounds ground oats, 300 pounds ground barley, 250 pounds oil meal, 100 pounds of the grain mixture to every three and 3.5 pounds of milk.

"I find that liberal oil meal and grain feeding makes more and cheaper milk. I would never make a profit off my dairy herd starving the cows," explains Phelps.

HUMPHREY TO SPEAK.

The annual meeting and banquet of the Wisconsin Short-horn Breeders' association will be held in the Madison Y. M. C. A. on Jan. 30. Prof. G. C. Humphrey, will speak of his travels in South American nations, noted for cattle raising.

A number of Rock county Short-horn breeders are expected to attend to listen to the speaker. The meeting is to be held in Rock county next summer.

FIRST DUCOR SALE.

The first of the seven swine sales to be held in the Rock county Livestock market will be held on Jan. 24, when 40 head spring gilts will be offered by Clarence Croft and E. H. Parker and son. Sale arrangements have been completed and catalogues can be obtained from the breeders or from the Gazette farm department.

MALLEABLE IRON SUIT IS SETTLED

General Motors Agrees to Pay $17,500 to Milwaukee Firm.

After five hours of testimony before a jury composed of 12 men and two women, the State court of appeals, a settlement was finally effected at 11 a.m. Thursday, in the $60,000 lawsuit brought by the Federal Malleable Iron company, Milwaukee, against the General Motors corporation. The stipulation calls for the payment of $17,500 to the plaintiff by the defendant, each side to bear its own costs if the money is paid within 20 days.

The case was of interest because it involved the law of contracts. The Samson Tractor company, a subsidiary of the G. M. C., made a contract on April 2, 1920 for the purchase of 1,000 tons of malleable castings for tractors. In a dormeril filed several months ago, the plaintiff claimed he would be entitled in that no price was mentioned, only the prevailing market price at time of manufacture.

Complaint Is Amended

When Judge George Grimm sustained this claim, the plaintiff amended the complaint to show that pursuant to the contract, there was an understanding between the two companies as to price and that several orders were given and shipped under that arrangement. This development brought out more clearly during the jury trial, Thursday, the attorneys for the defense, Louis Avery, O. A. Ostroch and P. J. Wood, proposed a compromise of $17,500. Had the case been decided for the plaintiff, a judgment of $17,500 was held possible.

Witness Examined

Allan J. Hoffman, of the Milwaukee company, was the only witness examined up to the time of settlement, he being on the stand all Wednesday afternoon and Thursday morning. Edgar L. Wood and Richard Tyrell, both of Milwaukee, represented the Malleable Iron company. Members of the jury declined to be identified with their names. Byron D. Gabriel, William McGinn, Byron Buck, James Farrelly, V. S. Jones, G. P. Shorud, A. V. Peters, C. F. Kinschel, Floyd Hurd and Mrs. Kathryn Way and Mrs. Maude Bishop.

Judge Grimm granted a divorce, Thursday, to Jessie Schultz from Herbert Schultz. Judge John E. Clark, Beloit, appeared for the woman while the defendant made no appearance.

Rural Club to Study Nursing

The Neighborly club was entertained at the home of Miss Hein, near Evansville, Saturday evening. Invitations were checked and addresses were given by Miss Anna Leutscher, county nurse and Mrs. Florence Hyde, community editor of the Gazette.

Mrs. Leutscher explained the home nursing course of eight lessons which she is giving to rural organizations that desire it. The club decided to take the course and will have the first lesson at next meeting in the home of the club president, Mrs. Arthur Spencer, January 31.

Mrs. Hyde told of the plans for the music memory contest in the rural schools to be promoted jointly by the county superintendent of schools and the Gazette community service department. She stated that the organization selected the district in which most of the club members live, could not participate in the contest unless a phonograph could be obtained and outlined a plan for an entertainment to raise the necessary funds. Club members expressed a willingness to cooperate with the teacher, Miss Neila Maloy, in such an enterprise.

COMMUNITY PROGRAMS PROVING POPULAR

The motion picture and musical entertainment given at the Lime Center under auspices of the Gazette Center, under auspices of the Gazette Center, attracted large audiences. The same entertainment was given Tuesday night in the Community church, while the Lime Center's hall under the direction of the Lime Center, was Tuesday night in the Community church, while the Lime Center's hall under the direction of the Lime Center, was Tuesday night. The same entertainment will be given in Orfordville, Tuesday night, January 23, and at the school of district, at Portor, Thursday evening, January 25.

FARMERS, BREEDERS WANT CHANGE IN FAIR DIRECTORY

(Continued from page one) Farmers and breeders who have the merit of animals to be formed into the Rock county show herd. There will be good Hereford, Brown Swiss, Jersey and Shorthorn livestock exhibits providing the farmers are offered inducements and space warranting them to spend the necessary time and effort to fit their stock for exhibiting.

Each of the five county associations formed for developing breeds of swine are planning an extensive exhibit. Now comes a contest for "ton-litters" and fat-barrows that will attract many farmers who never had the chance to exhibit in the fair here. There are outstanding herds of sheep and cattle that have never been exhibited here for the reason the limited premiums have offered no inducement and the ribbons offered to prize winners are of a lower quality than offered at even small communities.

A record breaking exhibit of livestock and agricultural products could be obtained if proper attention is shown to the breeders and farmers interests.

Last year emergency pens and tents, showed in the Rock county fair, had to satisfy the exhibitors' urge to get in the cramped main barns and pens. Such a policy means that dissatisfaction with the fair will not be so anxious to show again.

Make It County-Wide

"No one expects to make any money off the fair but we farmers expect something besides a fair. We want to get in the cramped main barns and pens. Such a policy means that dissatisfaction with the fair will not be so anxious to show again."

There is also a demand that a detailed account of receipts and disbursements be prepared with an office established whereby business pertaining to the fair can be transacted at any time during the year and especially during the several months previous to the fair.

January was not part of the calendar until Numa added it and February to the then ten months of the year.

Kiwanis Observes

8th Anniversary

Anniversary day of the Kiwanis International was celebrated at the Janesville Kiwanis club luncheon at the Grand hotel, Thursday, with talks by Frank Hayes of "The Ideal of Kiwanis" and Dr. Thomas J. Snodgrass, on the welfare work being done by the organization. This is the eighth anniversary of establishment of the Kiwanis organization.

A ton of coal was awarded Charles Boutil for the best carving work done with the block of wood handed out at the last meeting by Harold Dane of Brittingham and E. L. Lumber company. There were 18 contestants and Mr. Boutil's winning piece of work, with two men building it in competition, was the choice for the prize. It was labeled "Kiwanis We Build."

The birthdays of four members, Fred Ehrlinger, Alan Dunwidde, Oscar Nelson and Harold Dano, were observed.

Graver Outfit to be Installed at New H. S. at Cost of $3,300.

The Graver outfit, made by the company of the same name at East Chicago, Ind., has been decided upon as the one to install in the new swimming pool at the new high school, now under construction, with practically all the tile now laid in one. The decision was made by the equipment committee of the board of education, given power to act at the last meeting of the board.

According to the different firms manufacturing filters and purifiers have been here the past week telling the various points of each filter. The Graver one will cost $3,300, among the lowest-priced of the ten, with the chief advantages of all.

This filter will purify and filter the water in both tanks once in every ten hours, according to need, separating a settling with oily water only twice, and possibly only once a year. A vacuum cleaning system separate from that used in the rest of the building, comes with the filter and will be used to clean the bottom of the tanks. The filter uses a chlorine mixture for purifying the water.

The $3,300 for this system comes out of the $62,000 allowed by the city for equipment for the new building, and takes practically all of the remainder of that amount.

Attendance department of the city schools is one of the best ways to keep a finger on the pulse of the city's growth or decrease in population, and it is hopeful to note that an increase of 12 in the school census occurred during December. A total of 16 families came in during the month, totaling 19 children, while less than six families moved out. One person died.

Census enrollment to date is 2,422. Increases have been noted every month since last spring, while decreases in some months were evident. In some months, entries to the city came from Afton, Durand, Edgerton, Evansville, Hanover, Hubleton, Madison, Richland Center and rural sections of the state, Rockton, Ill., and Indiana Harbor, Ind. Occupations were blacksmith, boiler maker, hotel keeper, coal hauler, hotel waiter, Chevrolet man, mechanic, store manager, retired farmer and teamster.

The efficiency of the department is shown in the report of treasury and cash for last month. In treasury case the number for December was less than that for November, and that in turn had been lower than the preceding month. But 48 cases were reported for investigation, compared to 72 for the preceding month. Truancy has dropped from five cases to none. Non-attendance has dropped from 17 to 18. Visited homes have decreased by four, and visits to schools dropped half.

Absence, however, increased, no doubt due to the weather. Illness was much more prevalent. While only one absence was caused in November by eye sickness, 28 stayed out for that reason in December. Colds were prevalent.

lightful playground for the people of the city.
Establishment of free baseball grounds, tennis

and the like.

Establishment of a real estate mortgage company to make the building of homes more easily accomplished.

Additional room in the post office by buildings on either side.

Arranging a road building program so that the farmer and taxpayer will be the greatest beneficiaries.

Training conditions that will reduce recklessness
driving and the number of deaths from auto accidents.

THE FARMER AND THE FAIR.

Farmers of Rock county want greater representation on the fair board and a larger hand in its management.

They ought not to be obliged to fight for it but it should be given them as a right and for the benefit of the fair itself.

If there is anything that will make the Janesville fair a continued success it is the fullest and most intense cooperation of the farmers and breeders of live stock of the county.

The meeting of the stockholders of the Janesville fair will be held Saturday at the City Hall, here and that is a good time for the stockholders
to be present in force and see that the breeders interests are looked after. There are only two farmers on the board now and three vacancies
are to be filled.

This presents an opportunity for the farmers to add that number to the board and make a Rock county fair as important as are the livestock interests in the county—the biggest asset we have.

The Turk has been completely eclipsed by the Ruhr.

EIGHT MILLIONS WORTH OF ECONOMY.

In the face of a general demand for economy,
for a cutting down in every possible way of expenditures and a pledge of better government, the Blaine administration budget presented to the legislature calls for eight million dollars more expensive than ever before in the state's history.
It is just that much in excess of the budget presented to the session in 1921, the champion and record breaker at that time.

Without going into detail or taking up each item in the budget submitted, it is a perfectly safe thing to aver that there has not arisen any emergence in the last year, nor have there been any added functions of government which would demand an increase in state expenses of eight millions of dollars.

We have added a number of employees. They are running over each other in the capitol and in the annex and more bureaus and commissions are contemplated by measures, either already in the legislative hopper or proposed, but they need not add the sum of $8,000,000 to the taxpayers' burden.

Promises of economy have already gone glib-mering in the legislature of 1923.

Undoubtedly Paderewski would rather play the piano in Milwaukee than politics in Poland.

REDUCING THE LOSS OF LIFE AT CROSSINGS.

The legislature of the state has a real opportunity this year to take the matter of the danger to which automobile drivers are exposed at railroad crossings, under earnest consideration and to provide adequate legislation which will at least minimize the tragedies from this class of accidents.

A locomotive engineer, writing to the Gazette,
says the most nerve racking task is the constant need for watchfulness at crossings for the foot driver of an automobile or truck. More persons make crossings without looking about to see if a train is coming, take chances on death riding rails close at hand and give slight heed to consequences, than there are those who are careful and cautious. There is no assurance to the engineer of the train that the motorist knows or cares whether a train is approaching or not, or that a locomotive, powerful to annihilate, is close at hand. The engineer, feeling his responsibility, must be constantly on the watch for the motorist.

It is a fact that practically all accidents at crossings are due to the carelessness of the auto driver and not to the locomotive engineer. Not one in ten thousand could have been avoided by the locomotive driver.

It is possible that the need for greater care
could be impressed on the autoist if the state should make all railroads arterial highways, even as the streets of a city are so designated. In that way a responsibility would be placed on the autoist and if he abided by the law, would not attempt to negotiate a crossing without first having assured himself that a train was not bearing down upon him. It is probable that they would be many who would utterly ignore the rule and pay no attention to it. But even then it would have occurred had the railroads been considered and designated as arterial highways and the automobile halted at crossings.

PANAMA CANAL PROSPERS

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Washington.—After a history made up very largely of hard luck the Panama canal is coming into its own.

Constructed amid controversy, in the face of natural obstacles, and on the ruins of a previous colossal failure, this great waterway has struggled through seven years of adversity—the traditional seven lean years. But now the era of slides, diplomatic and political squabbles over tolls,
war and business depression, seems to have come to an end and good times are promised.

November, 1922, the latest month for which compiled statistics are available, shows Panama canal traffic is gaining rapidly. In the fiscal year ended June 30, 1920—the last year before the business depression set in—and drove ships off the seas—tolls amounted to $8,495,000. The November, 1922, figures indicate that for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1923, the tolls will amount to $13, 500,000. However, each month of the present year the ratio has been increasing and it is fair to assume it will continue to increase, probably bringing the total tolls for the year to $15,000,- 000.

The Panama canal was opened in August, 1914
in the same month that the European war began.
In the ensuing year, that is, the fiscal year ended
June 30, 1915, 357 vessels had passed through the canal, carrying 1,852,000 tons of cargo and paying $1,495,000 in tolls. In 1915 local hard luck, in addition to the interference of the war, set in, bringing slides which practically suspended traffic for a portion of the year. One thousand and seventy-two ships got through carrying cargo of 4,326,000 tons and $2,863,000 in tolls were collected. The business gradually increased until in 1920, 2,478 ships passed through carrying 9,374,000 tons of cargo and paying $8, 495,000 in tolls. For the current fiscal year, ended June 30, next, the indications are that no less than 3,500 ships will traverse the waterway carrying 17,160,000 tons of cargo and paying $13, 500,000 to $15,000,000 in tolls.

At this rate, it will not take long for the traffic to increase to ultimate capacity and then talk will be renewed about another isthmian canal—probably the old Nicaragua sea level route, which was so much discussed in the early years of the last decade.

OUR OWN ENCYCLOPEDIA.

There are natives in the interior of Mexico who never heard a radio machine, and they are said to live a carefree life.

A man has invented an alarm clock that does not tick, but will not have his invention entirely patented until he evolves an alarm bell that is silent.

The people of Cape Cod always go away from home and leave their dogs unchained. They are afraid the neighbors might bring something and be unable to get in.

The Detroit River is the shortest river in the world, but on account of hooch smuggling from Canada it is said to be one of the wettest.

A traveler returning to the United States from Europe hung over the rail all the way. It is the first man to come from Europe by rail.

Papers speak of a soft coal shortage, but there isn't any coal shortage that is so very soft.

Scientists who have been poking around near the city of Luxor, Egypt, discovered the tomb of the late King Tutankhamen, who passed away, surrounded by a large circle of friends and relatives, in the year 1350 B. C., even before some of the present-day taxicabs were built. In this tomb they found gold trophies worth $12, 000,000 in present-day American money. The old king also buried with him a fine chariot in which he used to ride down the road to eternity. His plate and jewelry and buried with him.

The early thing about these great riches which is worth mentioning is the fact that King Tutankhamen, like everybody else, found that he could not take them with him.
The moral is strong for a good many people of today, who seem to think they can put that little trick at the last moment.

A Detroit official makes a statement to the effect that Henry Ford is the greatest man in history. We must take exception to that. While we are ready to admit that Hank is the greatest man alive today, he by no means is in history,
and probably will not be for some time.

Vaults have been built in Paris' opera house to bottle up phonograph records for one hundred years, but it is not well to become too cheerful
over this item, as they do not intend to sequester
any of the jazz records.

It will be remembered that a French company,
headed by the Count de Lessens, who built the Suez canal, poured $220,000,000 into an attempt
to construct a trans-isthmian canal at Panama
years before the work was undertaken by the United States. Even this money will come back indirectly, for French ships are as free to pass through the canal as those flying the American flag. This saving is enormous.

Even this saving brings an indirect revenue to the government. The canal enables ships to make more trips and earn more money. As their earnings increase, they pay more taxes to the government and so the cost of the canal finds its way back into the coffers of the treasury. Could these figures be made, it would be found, in all probability,
that the canal already has been paid
for.

It is well known that a French company,
headed by the Count de Lessens, who built the Suez canal, poured $220,000,000 into an attempt
to construct a trans-isthmian canal at Panama
years before the work was undertaken by the United States. Even this money will come back indirectly, for French ships are as free to pass
through the canal as those flying the American
flag. This saving is enormous.

High freight rates on American railroads have greatly stimulated Panama canal traffic in the last year or two. The rates on Pacific coast products shipped in bulk to the Atlantic coast, have been high.
Producers of lumber, of minerals and of a variety of other commodities have turned to the canal finding ocean rates more economical.
With the last few months the experiment has been made of shipping the highly perishable citrus fruit crop of California and the apples of Oregon and Washington through the canal to the Atlantic states market. This has proved successful and will add millions of tons of cargo each succeeding year to Panama canal traffic.

Eastern producers of manufactured goods have
reversed the process and have shipped all manner
of commodities to the Pacific coast.

When the canal first was opened the transcontinental railroads themselves proposed to operate ships through the waterway. Congress promptly enacted an amendment to the Panama canal act, prohibiting railroads from operating such ships on the ground that for a carrier to own both rail and water lines resulted in a monopoly which would suppress competition. Railroads were compelled to divorce their ships. Students on the merchant marine situation are inclined to regard the step as a mistake, inasmuch as American railroads were doing much to build up an American flag merchant marine until they were told by the government to stop. It is claimed that had the government not interfered, congress would not now be asked for a ship subsidy
to help keep the American flag flying over American ships.

Eastern producers of manufactured goods have
reversed the process and have shipped all manner
of commodities to the Pacific coast.

nity this year to take the matter of the danger

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST

FAME SEEKS MEN
Men and women are seeking men,
Men to share their power and glory,
Men to do great deeds, and then
Not write shame into story.

Men with level heads to rise
High by skill and true endeavor,
Still remaining modest, wise,
Touching scandal's garments never.

Men whom wealth cannot debase,
Strong men for the world's elation,
Who respecting self and place,
Will not stoop to degradation.

Men who will not use their power
As a cloak for vicious pleasures,
Or in passion's scarlet hour
Violate what honor treasures.

Fame and wealth are seeking men
Who can wear the purple royal,
Come to luxury, and then
To what's best in life, be loyal.

A RARE GOOD FIND

Down in the cane fields, they say,
The picnickers were fat and happy
when the cane is ripe and juicy.
Contrary to all ultra-scientific notions,
all day sucking on sugar cane does not spoil the teeth. I won't argue that the bones of the human body are not good for the teeth, however.
Not the teeth, however, are the only parts of the body that are affected by the sugar cane.

Men with level heads to rise
High by skill and true endeavor,
Still remaining modest, wise,
Touching scandal's garments never.

Men whom wealth cannot debase,
Strong men for the world's elation,
Who respecting self and place,
Will not stoop to degradation.

Men who will not use their power
As a cloak for vicious pleasures,
Or in passion's scarlet hour
Violate what honor treasures.

Fame and wealth are seeking men
Who can wear the purple royal,
Come to luxury, and then
To what's best in life, be loyal.

Tanks Wallop Metals-Whitewater Plays Cats Thursday

GUARDSMEN RUSH
CHARGE AND WIN
BY 48-12 SCORE

Janesville's newly formed city basketball league of eight teams got off to a slow start Wednesday night, the Tank Corps finding an easy victim in the American Metallic outfit. The final score of the initial contest was 48 to 12.

Though the pencil makers got in a share of the baskets and have good opportunities of developing a fast team, the defense was unable to hold the barrage of the winners. Ryder set the pace for the tanks with 10 field baskets and was followed closely by Hupel with seven. Every other of the national guardsmen got connection with the page, except one.

Busy Man's Sport Page

By FRANK SINCLAIR

THROUGH THE WISCONSIN Boxing commission is to be admired in many ways for the stand it has taken in placing the game on an extremely clean basis, its reported plans to withdraw from the National Boxing association place it in a position to do more than any other Minneapolis "sporting" publication in "voting" contests, such as voting contests go, and awarded Pinky Mitchell of Milwaukee the belt of junior welterweight champion.

IT is an refusal of the National commission to consider that "title" that the state commission is reported—oh! reported, however—to be ready to kick over national traces. Here's hoping the commission does no such a thing. If it does, it will be opening itself to the ridicule of followers of the sport.

FORGET that Mitchell is a Milwaukee boxer. Look at his thing in a real light. What light has any publication to declare a man, by vote or otherwise, a champion of any kind? Why if a junior welterweight division was wanted, was not a tournament of some nature held? How would the fans like it if some paper were to say our national champion is the junior welterweight football title and then hold a voting contest to pick the title "winner"? Stretching the point? No, there isn't any difference when it comes down to rock bottom.

THE CATS say the visitors can't enter their intention. The argument will be settled at the Coliseum ring on South River street the first blow to be struck at 8:15 p.m. preceded by a musical introduction by the Bower city band.

ANNOUNCEMENT was made Thursday that a dual is being closed to bring the Freeport Badgers here Saturday night for a return battle. The series between these two clans stand at one each, the Saturday game being the only one the Cats played in the previous meeting. The Cats played the Illinois Badgers, Fredrickson, being going big. Their power is shown by the small margin with which they lost, to the Buffalo Hewitts, 36-30, the team which dropped to the Fairies Wednesday night by a 14-12 score.

A "rubber" contest between the Jack Cats and the Port Atkinson Legion is now being cooked up. It may be played on the hour, or Milton college next Wednesday night.
